

Winning:

If you're first to connect all your bee pieces to the hive without it toppling, you win!

- Balancing Bees is stack-tacular. Because of the counter-balanced design and extra wide pieces, you can stack and connect bees high and wide. How big of a hive can you build and keep balanced!?
- Make elegant hive sculptures and even connect two hives!
- Are you an expert level bee keeper? Connect your bees to the hive with only one hand.

Set Up:

Assemble the queen as shown and place her in the center of the play area.

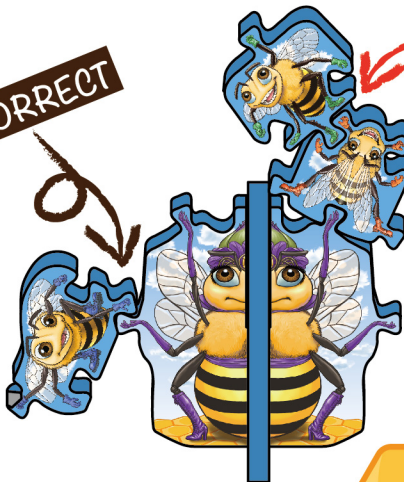

Divide the game pieces evenly among the players. If 3 people are playing, set aside the 3 extra game pieces.

Play:

1. The youngest player goes first. On your turn, connect one bee piece to the queen or any other bee piece already on the queen. This ends your turn.
2. Turns pass in a clockwise direction.
3. If at any time during your turn, the hive topples and a bee piece on the hive touches the playing surface, you must rebalance the hive by taking one bee piece back and end your turn.
4. You may not connect a bee piece and have it touch the play surface.
5. You may build in 4 directions off the queen so choose your location wisely to keep the hive balanced!
6. All pieces must be connected to the hive and not simply balanced on top of another piece.
